Memories last forever-
nobody can take them from you.

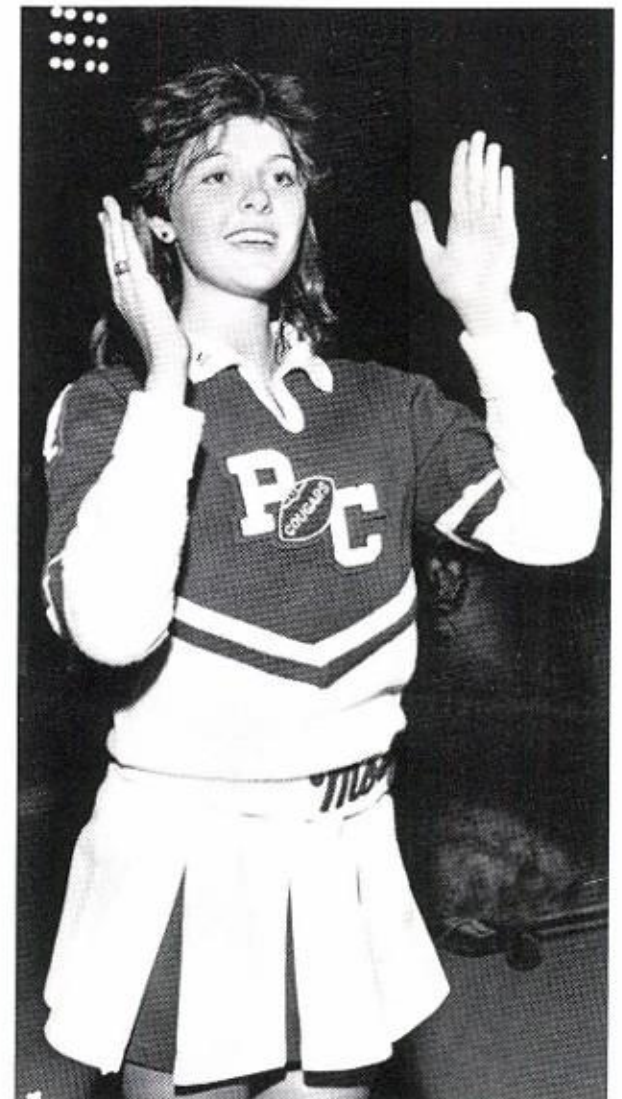

LOOKING BACKWARD

God's promises give us assurance for our tomorrows.

LOOKING FORWARD

People, so diverse-and yet so much alike-are the life of our school.

LOOKING AROUND

it's all in your point of view

High school is made of memories, and your memories are a very personal view of events, colored by a whole palette of emotions, feelings, prejudices.

Do you remember the confusion you experienced your first day as a freshman? Everything was so new, so big! Your sophomore year, while you were probably a little more confident, you still had to face Biology dissections and Driver's Ed movies. Your junior year - you were actually an upperclassman! - entailed concession stand duty. And don't forget the weeks you spent preparing for the PSAT! Then, at last - the moment you'd been waiting for - your senior year! Never mind that term papers, graduation, and choosing a college lay ahead - you were at the top and you were going to enjoy it.

Now, as you are looking backward over your years at Phoenix Christian, certain events stand out in your memory. Maybe it's the close friends and numerous acquaintances you made, and the many laughs and good times you shared. Maybe it's the football games and going out for pizza afterward. Maybe you'll remember the great teachers that really cared, or just the overall Christian fellowship. After all, it's all in your point of view!

The Start Of School Activities

The annual school picnic started with fun, food, and games. All classes struggled to achieve a number one position. Activities included the traditional water-wetting tug-of-war, the egg toss, an exciting food stuffing contest, and the chilling experience of ice between the toes. Last but not least old acquaintances were renewed and new ones made.

ONE: Dr. Crenshaw and the underclassmen with the water section of the tug-of-war.

TWO: Tracy Sloan and Scott Enserink struggle to come in first in the sack race.

THREE: David Flemming and Bruce McColley review their past summer vacation.

FOUR: Mr. Wolfe tries his hand at the egg toss.

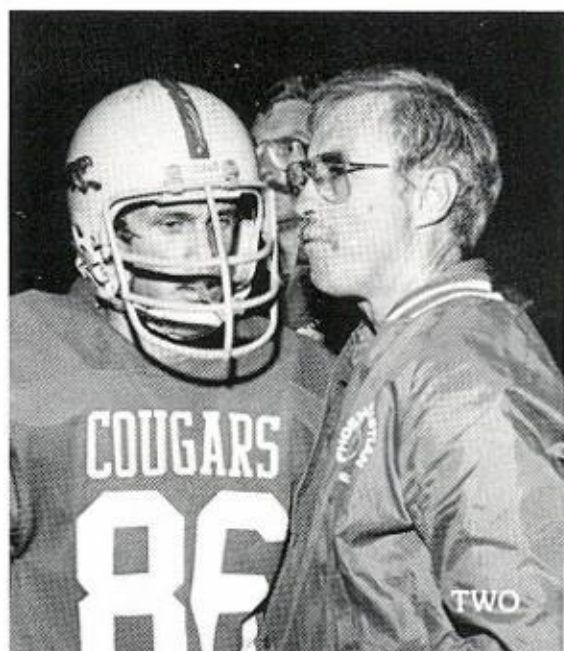

FIVE: Molly Everhart tries to help the freshmen class by winning the food stuffing contest.

SIX: Paula Clinton overlooks while Lori Shaeffer stuffs it in.

Spirit week started off with Monday as Hat day, followed by Hero day, Rollerskate T-Shirt day, Clash day, and Spirit day. Good participation made the week enjoyable. The Cheerleaders did an excellent job on their Homecoming routine to the theme of SWAT. The Cougars put forth a good effort, but were defeated by the Hayden Lobos. The injuries that occurred during the game added to the disappointment.

This year, for the third year in a row, the class of '83 won the float competition. The class of '85 came in a close second. Homecoming this year was honoring the Alumni of '61 and '71. The Student Council had refreshments after the game for them.

ONE: Andrea Burger and Ken Kortman being crowned by the King and Queen from the class of '61.

TWO: Glenn Meyers seems perplexed by Coach Beamis's instructions.

THREE: The three musketeers

FOUR: 1981-82 Homecoming Attendants

FIVE: The winning float by the class of '83

SIX: Julie Melvin showing off her personality during Spirit week

SEVEN: "Rosie, I don't understand why those guys are making fun of the way I dress?" (Priscilla Macias and Rosie Hines)

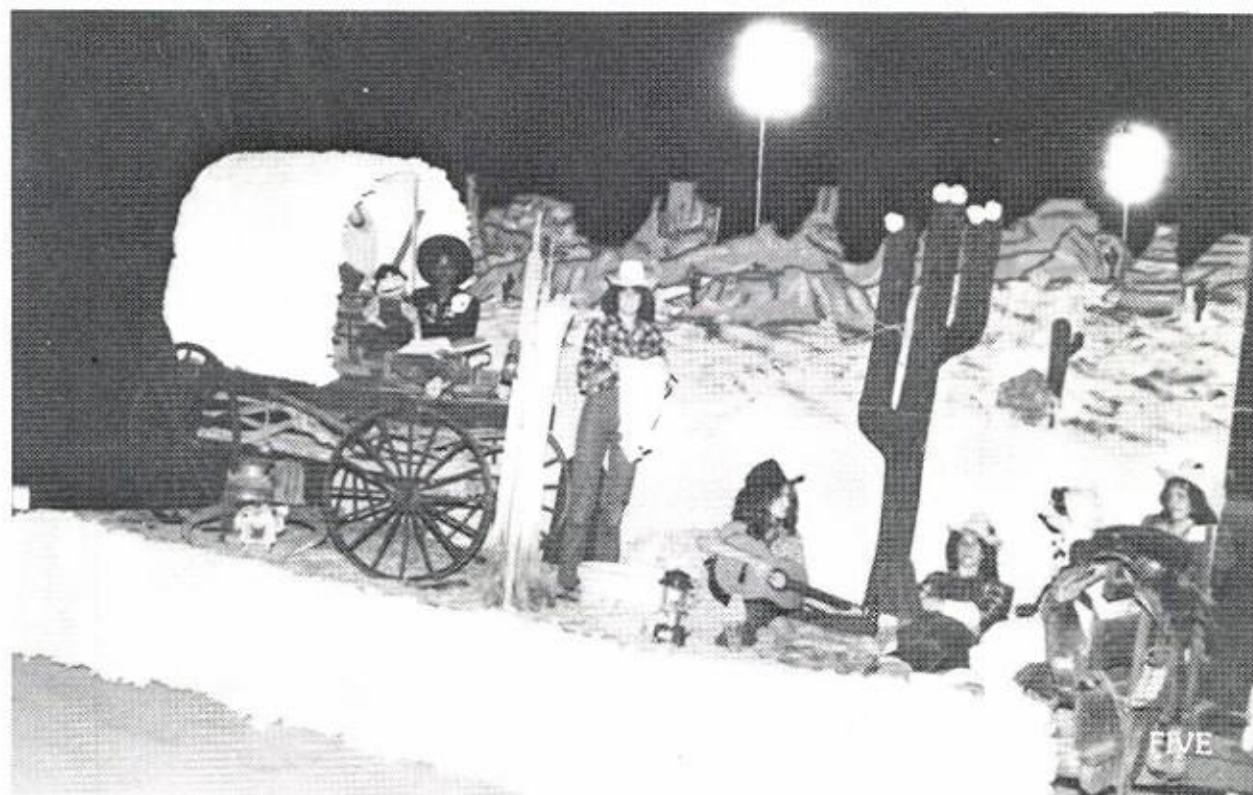

EIGHT: Cheerleaders performing their half-time routine

NINE: Coach Beamis prays with the team before the game.

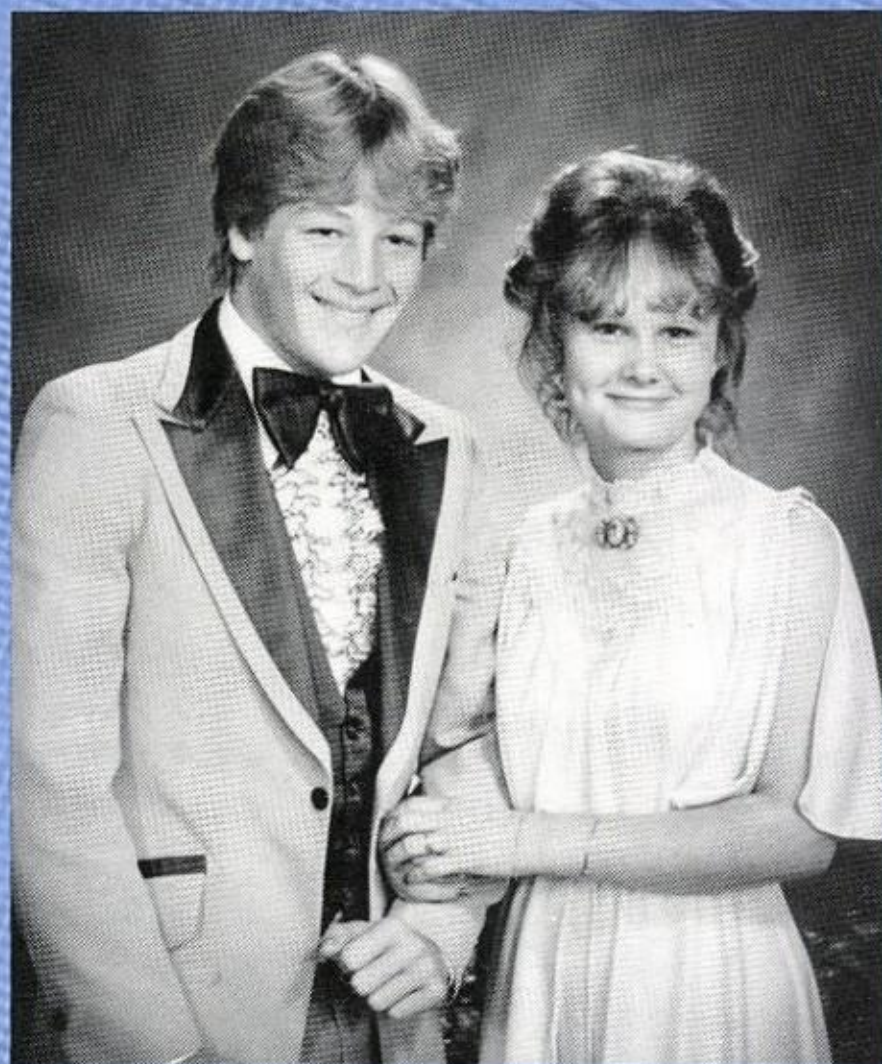

TEN: Alumni reviving old memories

Pep Assembly Sparks School Spirit

Spirit! Cheers! Skits! Class Competition! Where do you find all these? At a pep assembly, that's where. What do students say about these? "A time to get rowdy and to cheer for your class." "To give the guys confidence." "Fun." "School participation."

This year's pep assemblies got off to a good start with a skit by the senior class football players. Various clubs participated by performing skits throughout the year which helped to raise school spirit.

- ONE: Olivia teaches the student body a new cheer.
- TWO: The band adds enthusiasm to pep assembly.
- THREE: The cheerleaders.
- FOUR: Coach Beamis reports on the progress of the team.
- FIVE: Bud Simon displays talent on his "guitar".
- SIX: Mr. Thorp makes a mess.

The Gift Of Love

The Other Place in Tempe was the setting for the Valentine Banquet this year. Hearts, gifts, cupids, and signs decorated the tables and background of the dining room portraying the theme "The Gift Of Love." The guests were entertained before and after dinner by Rand Mozingo who sang and played his own compositions. The speaker, Guy Davidson, told the students that it is impossible to love until first you have a good relationship with God, and second, you have accepted yourself. Then you will be able to love others. He closed with I Corinthians 13:13 which says, "There are three things that remain-faith, hope, and love, and the greatest of these is love."

ONE Guy Davidson, speaker, illustrates a point.

TWO: Rand Mozingo sings soft poems that he wrote himself.

THREE: Becky McConnell, Bob Bauman, Brenda Anderson, Clayton Larson, Cindy Beachy, Scott Butler, Andrea Burger, and Ken Kortman waiting to eat.

FOUR: The head table follow along while Sharon Molenaar reads verses from the program.

FIVE: Sharon Molenaar and Karl Kortman vote for the cutest couple.

SIX: Student Body President Bud Simon as chairman of the Banquet welcomes the students.

SEVEN: Cindy Weed and Dan Page are voted cutest couple.

EIGHT: Cindy Beachy and Scott Butler enjoy their dinner.

New Members Inducted Into Society

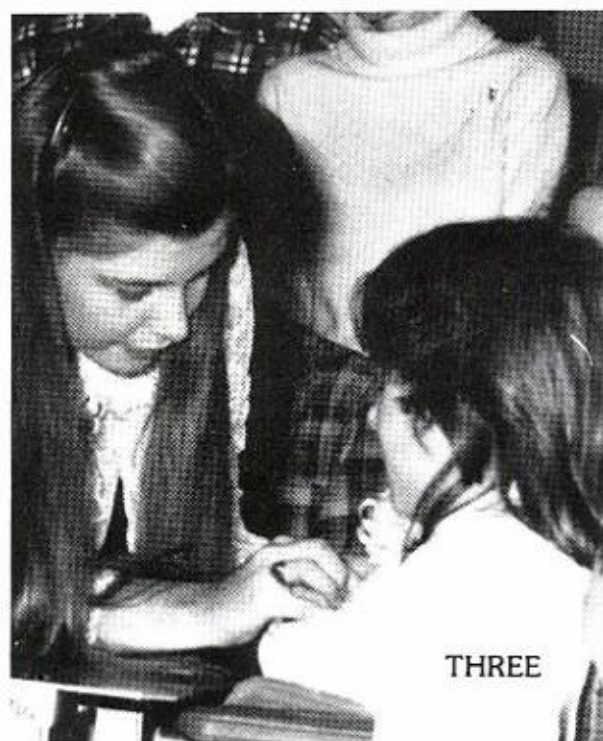

Members of the National Honor Society are chosen on the basis of character, leadership, service, scholarship, and spirituality. 18 new members, 8 seniors, and 10 juniors, were inducted into the Society on February 11. Brenda Anderson was the special singer and also spoke on the quality of leadership. Jill Talbert, Sharon Molenaar, Steve Eklund, and Bart Gray spoke on the remaining 4 qualities.

A touching moment took place when Lynae Spykerman was lifted onto the stage. Although beset by a handicap of riding in a wheelchair she has gained the admiration of teachers, administration, and students alike because she doesn't sit on the sidelines and let people pity her. She has been active in school and community affairs.

ONE: Kim Gruenwald signs the register.

TWO: New members Pam Magis and Melissa Thorson take the traditional NHS oath.

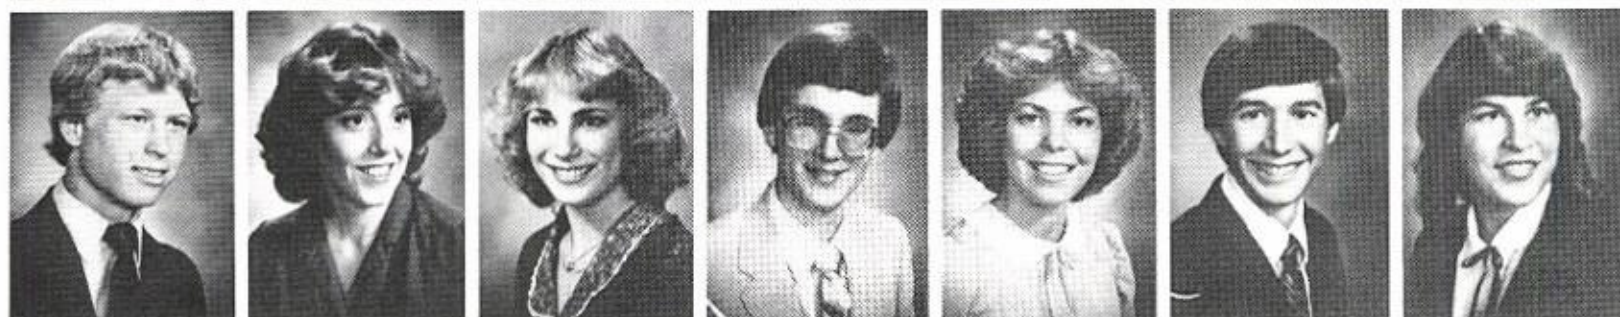

THREE: Lynae Spykerman is welcomed into NHS and receives her carnation.

FOUR: Wendy Magis lights a candle which every new member must do before taking the oath.

Honor Roll is based on students who have maintained a 2.0 average for every semester of high school. Due to lack of space only Seniors and Juniors are pictured here.

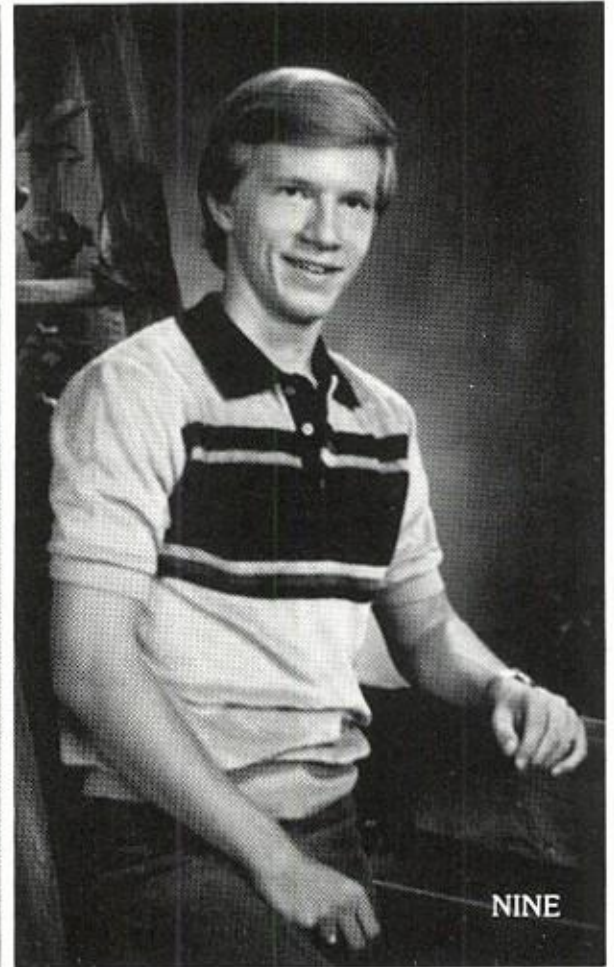

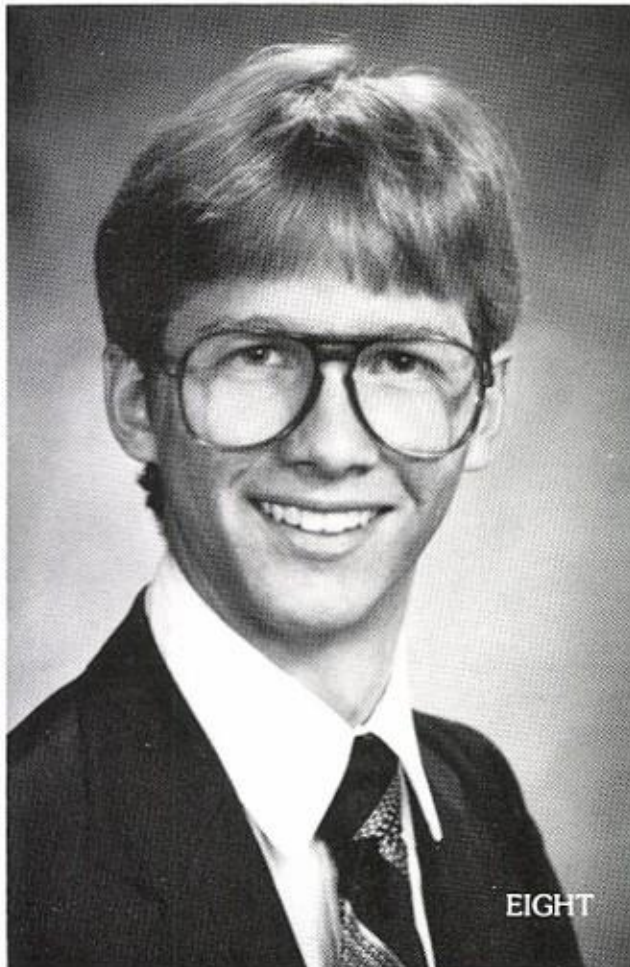

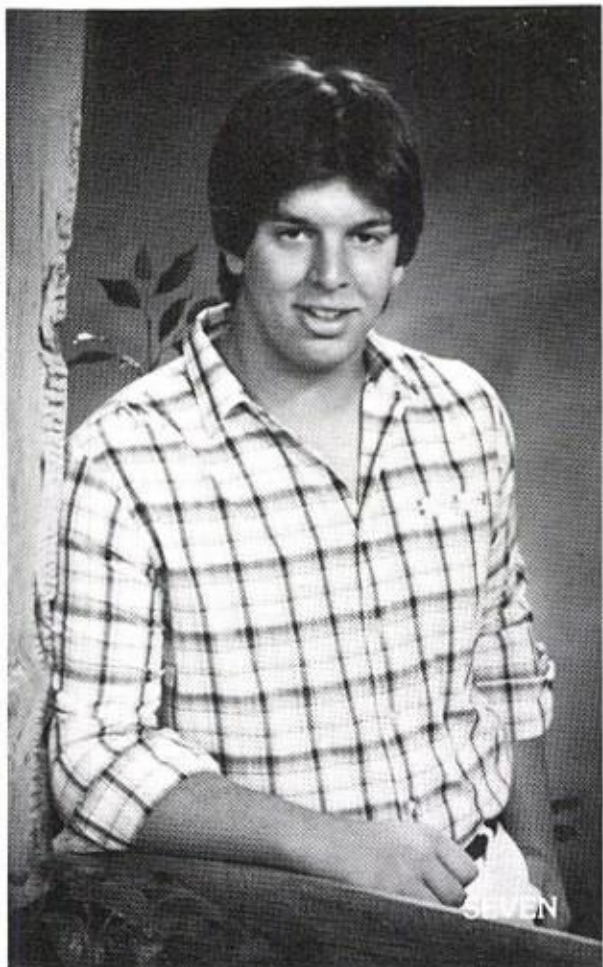

Seniors Display Academic And Leadership Abilities

Leadership was shown this year, with the Seniors excelling in honors. The three Optimists were honored early in the school year at an annual banquet in recognition of their achievements in the areas of the Sciences, Arts, and Letters. The Rotarians are chosen to represent PCHS at weekly Rotary Club meetings. Normally there are two Rotarians, one boy for the first semester with the other boy taking over at second semester, but due to Bud Simon being injured earlier in the year, Bob Bauman replaced him, while Steve Eklund represented PCHS during second semester. The Daughter of American Revolution is chosen by the faculty in recognition of her leadership, responsibility, and patriotism. The Valedictorian and Salutatorian are selected on the basis of having the first and second highest grade point averages, respectively, in the Senior class.

- ONE: Bart Gray, Valedictorian
- TWO: Robin Toms, Optimist-Art
- THREE: Jill Talbert, Optimist-Science
- FOUR: Melissa Thorson, Optimist-Letters
- FIVE: Melissa Thorson, Salutatorian
- SIX: Sharon Molenaar, Daughter of American Revolution

An Inexperienced Beacon Staff Works Well Together

What exactly is involved in planning a yearbook? Yearbook staffers do various things like drawing up layouts, planning and selecting photos, writing copy, and getting ads until the final design is sent to the publishers. At the end of the year, PCHS tradition calls for a surprise announcement and the finished product is handed out.

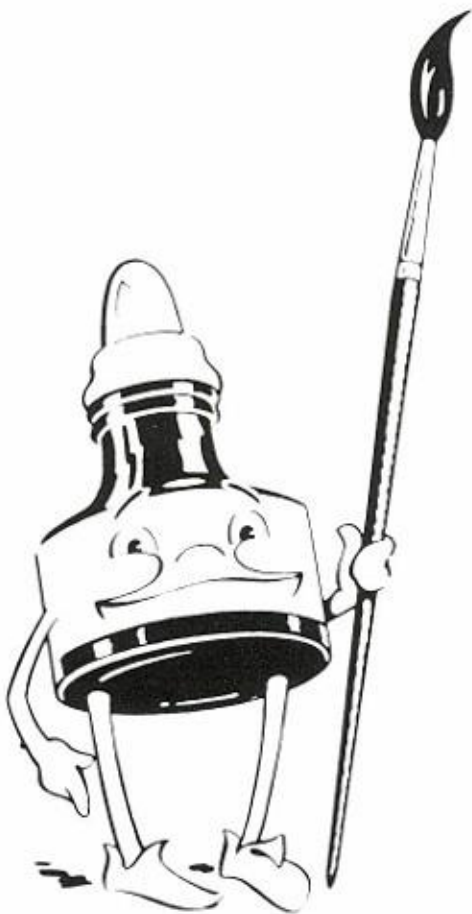

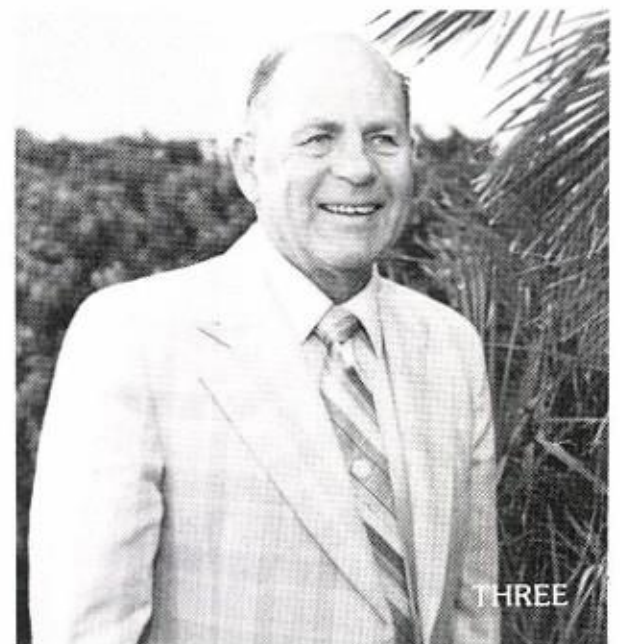

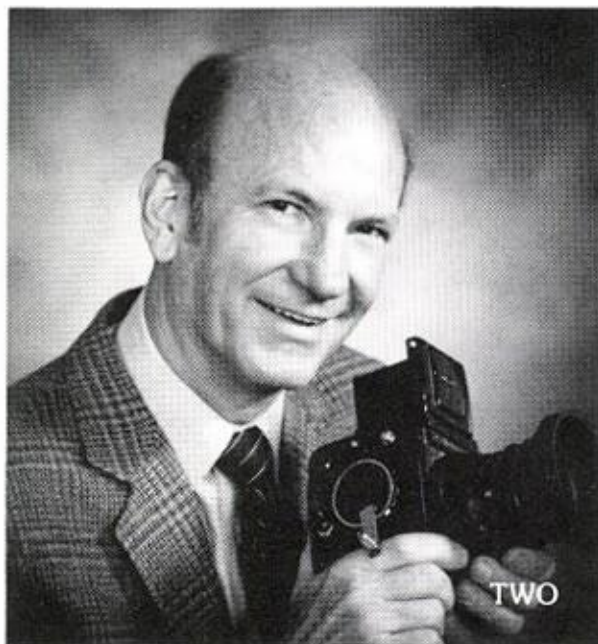

This year, unlike other years, seven staff members, including the editor, were new. John Tencer, one of the new members, said he joined the staff because he could get involved and do something for the school. New members must apply and be chosen.

THREE: Mr. Buckner, consultant

FOUR: J. Tencer, T. Bradley and S. Van Liew ponder over a layout.

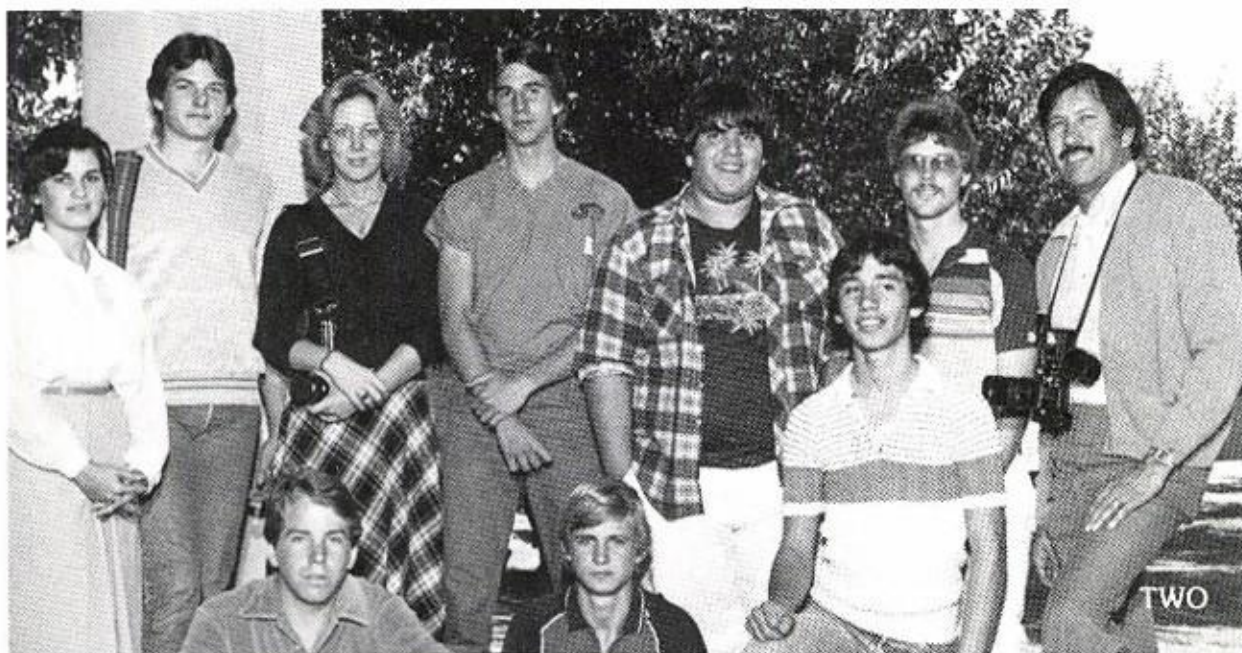

Newspaper Staff Keeps School Informed

The Newspaper staff worked together to produce the Cougar Hi-lites once a month. This involved writing articles, selecting photos, and pasting up pages, over which both an editor-in-chief and an assistant editor preside. This past year a computer was used to print some pages instead of type print.

Throughout all phases of our lives, we work for goals. In just about everything we do, we are working toward, looking forward to something.

What, specifically, our goals are, however, varies greatly according to personality, interests, and surroundings. Even here at school, people work for many different things. Students- or at least most of them- work for grades and honors. Club members try to improve in their specific area of interest through various activities. Musicians strive for perfection through what seems to them to be endless hours of practice. And athletes must constantly face new challenges to earn letters, victories, championships.

As Christians, all of our small goals are to be subject to the one all-encompassing purpose in our lives- to be like Jesus Christ. Every thought, every word, every action, must be a step further toward this goal.

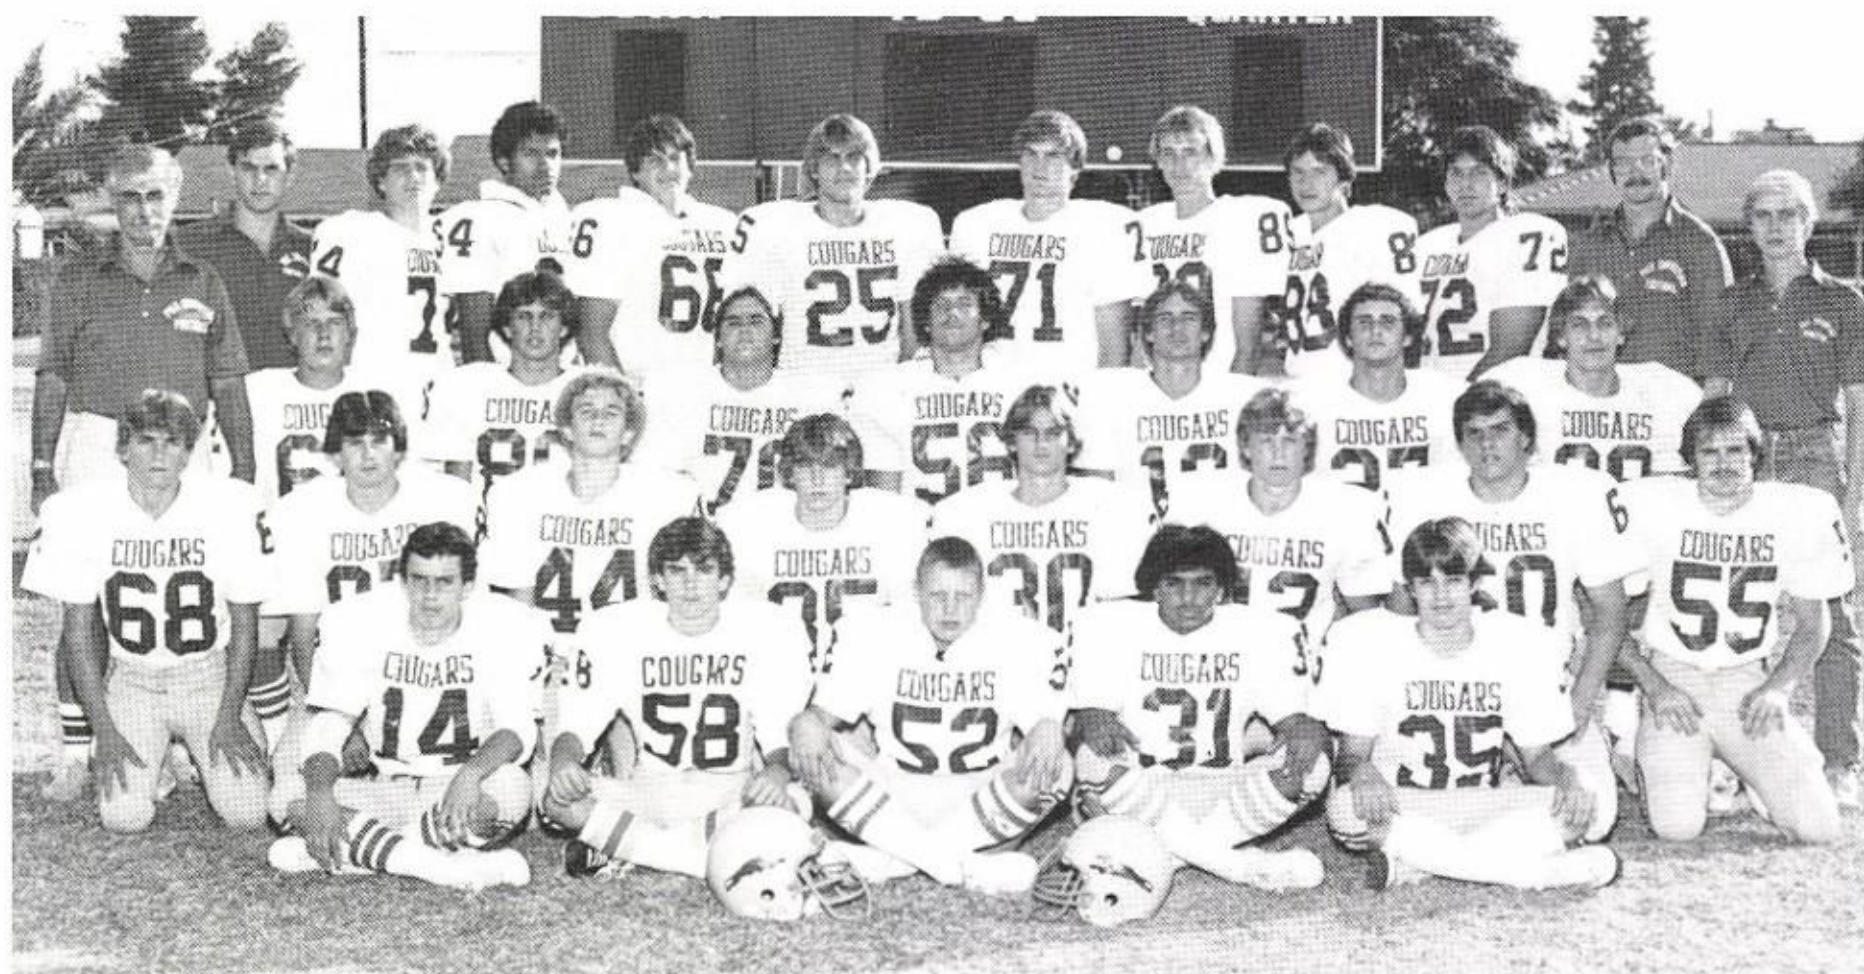

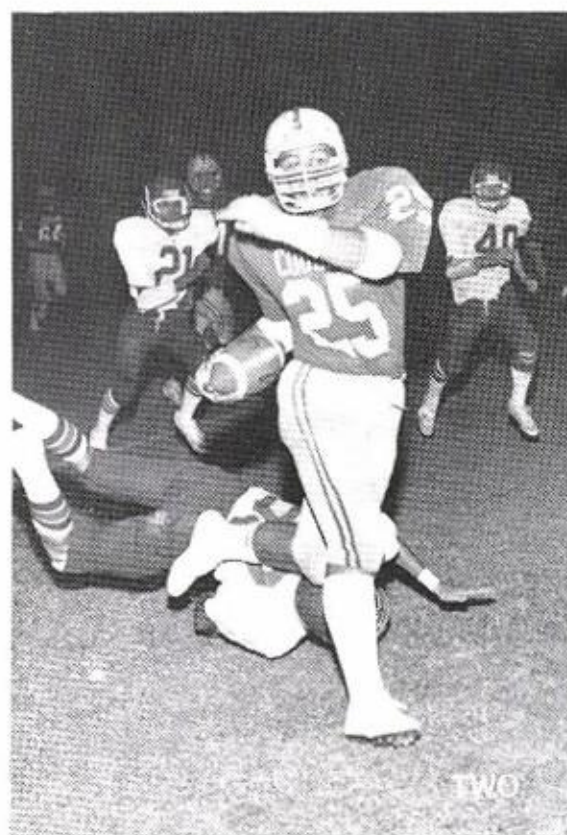

The work required to meet everyday challenges may be difficult, but the effort is well worth it when the goals are reached. It is the same in our Christian life- trials, temptations, and bad circumstances may seem to warrant despair, but we must never lose hope. Someday we will reach our goal: "We know that, when He appears, we shall be like Him..." (1 John 3:2b). And that's something to look forward to!

'81 Cougars Understand Real Victory

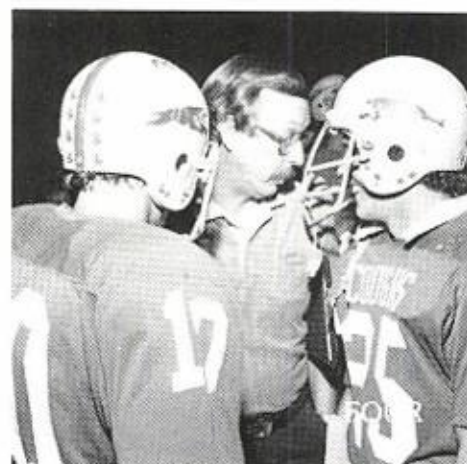

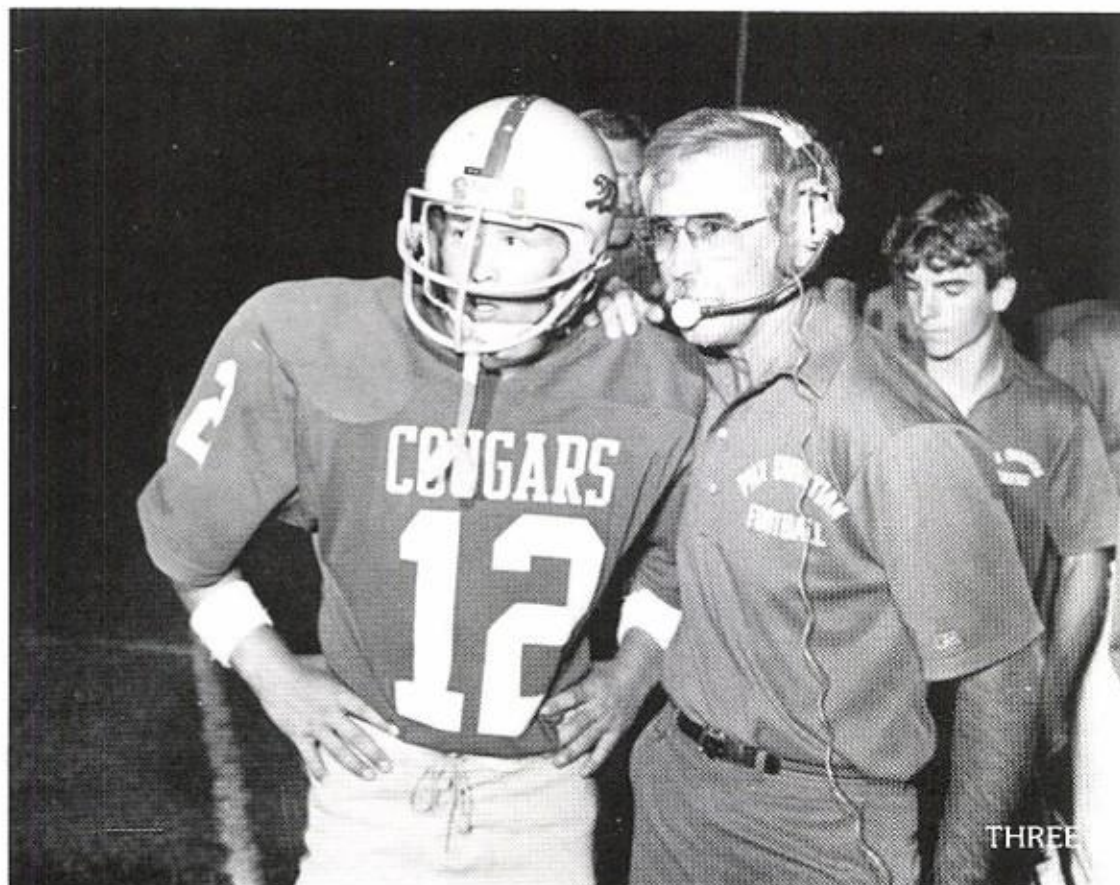

The 1981 Varsity Football Team was young and inexperienced with 18 seniors graduating in 1980-81. With this experience gone, however, the 1981 Cougars started off the season against Bourgade with a strong victory. According to Coach Beamis, "Things were going along fine until key injuries really took their toll at mid-season when the Cougars launched into the always tough B Central Division play."

The coaching staff was very proud of this team as they finished the season with a great attitude of family unity and that of total release for their only audience, Jesus Christ. This was clearly expressed as the team gathered one more time at football chapel.

JV Team Acquires New Skills

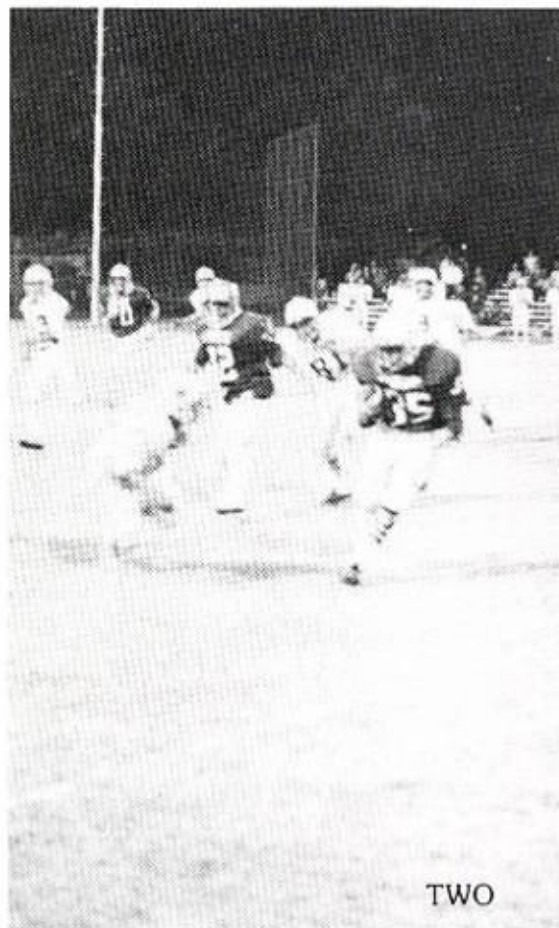

Despite the win-loss record, the 1981 Cougar JV Football team played well and showed that they have great potential for the future. The guys worked diligently on their fundamentals for the entire season and the coaches believe that this will reap great rewards as they become juniors and seniors.

Girls Work To Boost Spirit

Varsity Gridettes were in charge of such duties as taking stats for the football team, raising the flag, and taking the cougar out before the games. The JV Gridettes responsibilities were marking the downs and running the chains at the JV games.

The Cagettes had the responsibilities of taking stats for the basketball teams and sweeping the court at half-time during the home games.

Varsity Team Finishes Season With Good Record

VARSITY TEAM: Chris Ferrara, Mark Purcell, Doug Turner, Dan Hunkin, Mike Baker, Paul Hamstra, Clayton Roberts, Dwight Poplin, Jeff

Taylor, John Vanderschoot, Paul Vandernaalt-mgr. FRONT: Mr. Thorp.

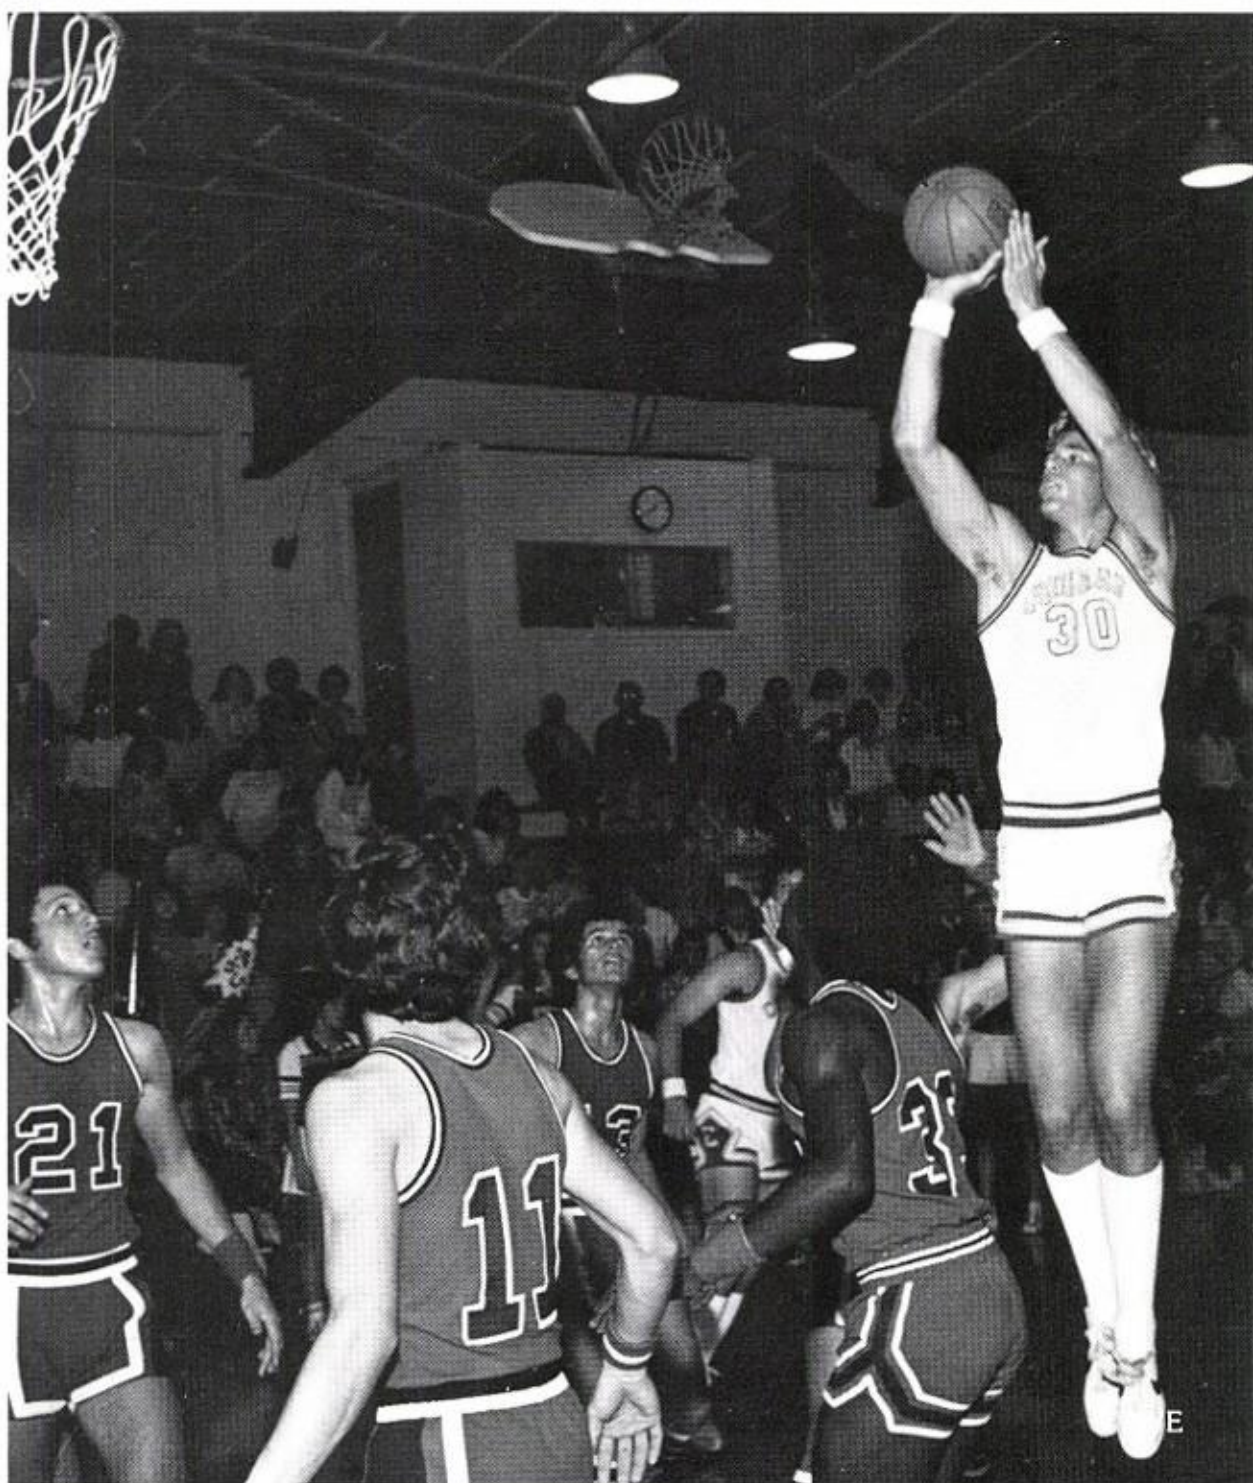

The 1981-82 varsity basketball team was led by two returning starters, Paul Hamstra and Jeff Taylor, who contributed to the team with height and ball handling abilities. Also contributing to the squad's success were seniors Mark Purcell (defensive hustle, steals), Doug Turner (ball handling, scoring), and Clayton Roberts (scoring). Juniors Mike Baker (rebounds, scoring) and Dwight Poplin (offensive moves) donated these valuable skills to the team.

The Cougar team began their season with an impressive five-team winning streak. Towards the middle part of the season the team faltered, losing four consecutive games as the division play developed.

The Cougars lost to Hayden and Superior twice but defeated Payson and Florence both games. The team beat Ray once but lost to their team the last game of the season, leaving the Cougars with a ranking of 4th in the B central division and an over all record of 13 and 8.

Coach Thorp felt "The Cougars never gave up even through tough competition," and he believes the type of competitiveness on the court will reflect their future lifestyle.

- ONE: Paul Hamstra battles for a rebound.
- TWO: Mike Baker shoots for two!
- THREE: Dwight Poplin makes a move against the Florence defense.
- FOUR: Coach Thorp gives the team final instructions before the tip-off.

FOUR: Doug Larson receives instruction from Coach Wolfe.

FIVE: Doug Larson battles for a jump ball.

SIX: Coach Wolfe.

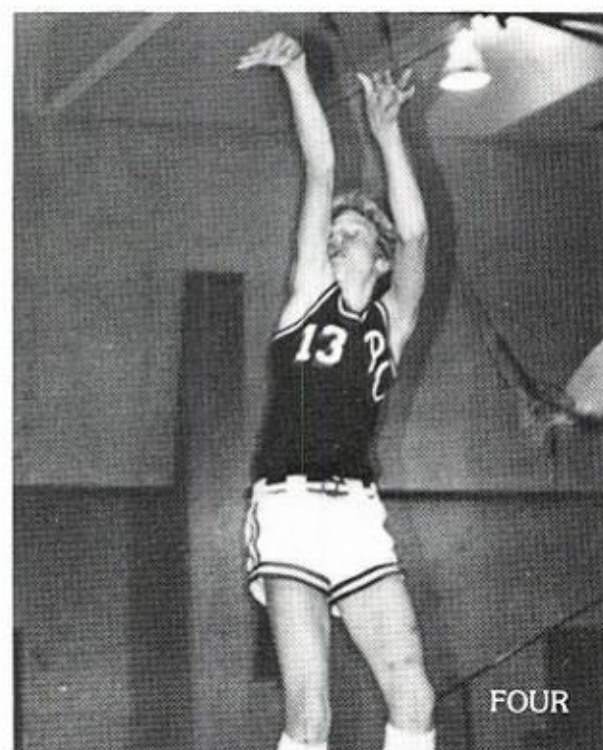

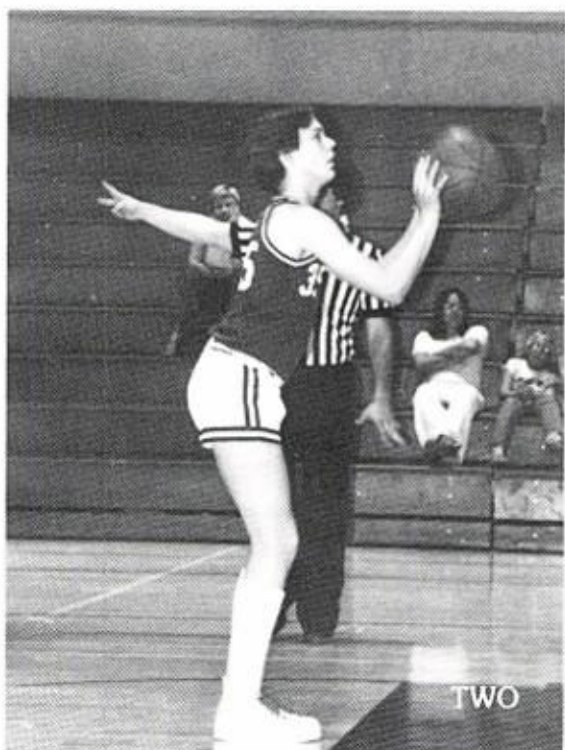

J.V. And Frosh Teams Gain Experience

Despite the difficulties faced by the JV and Freshman teams, they both managed to end their seasons with good records.

The goal of the freshman team was to develop and to improve upon attitudes and skills necessary if the student is to make a meaningful contribution to the basketball program in the future years according to Mr. Harmon.

Travis Rand summed it all up by saying, "There is more to athletics than just ability; it involves a good attitude and total release."

ONE: FRESHMAN TEAM: Jeff Brouwer, Joe Gamez, Travis Rand, Ted Tittle, Danny Poston, Mr. Harmon, Frank Bajus, Jeff Utley, Eric Tanita, Scott Kobashi.

TWO: Ted Tittle concentrates on the basket.

THREE: Mr. Harmon, Freshman team coach.

FOUR: Frank Bajus "shoots for two".

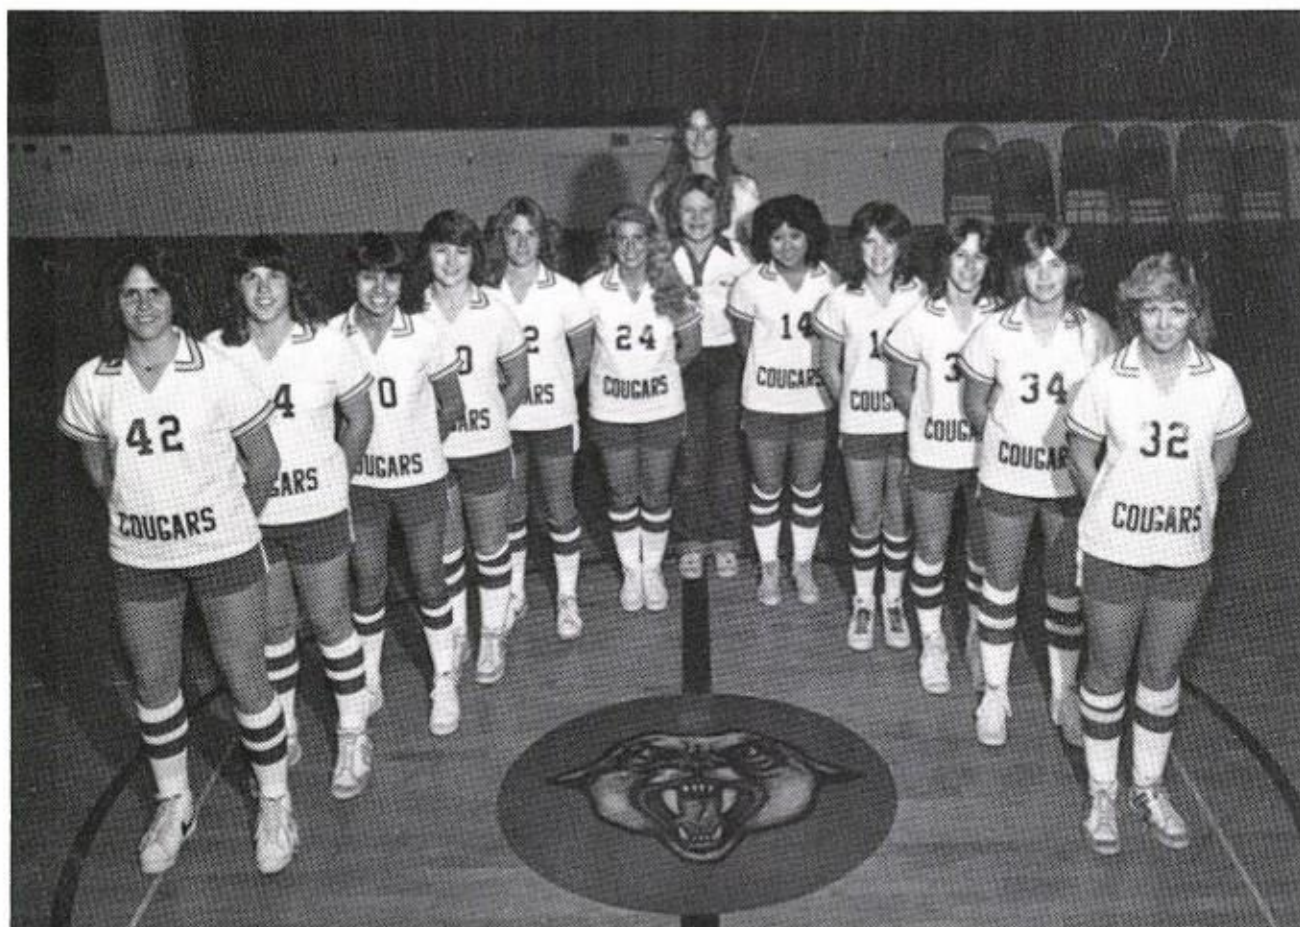

FIVE: Mr. Harmon gives pre-game instruction.

Team Unity Leads To Success

The Varsity team started the year off with six returning varsity and five additional strong players which contributed to a very successful bench. As the season progressed, they developed into a closer unit, working together more.

The Junior Varsity team was led by freshman Inger Erickson to many victories. Her game average of fifteen points usually made her the high scorer of the game.

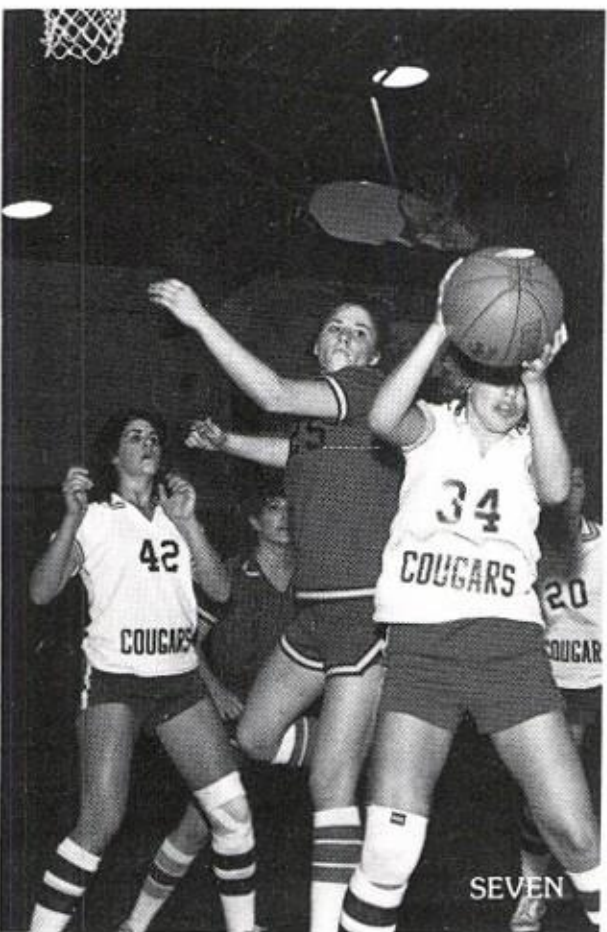

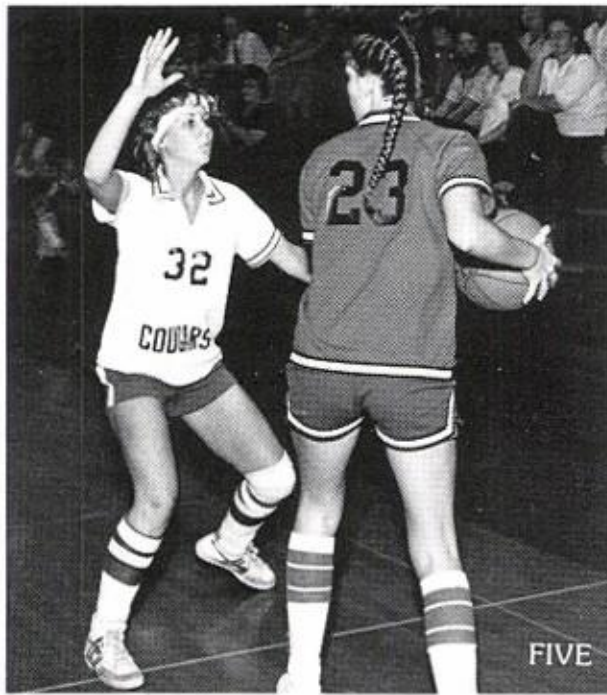

Miss Oesterle, who had coached JV for the two previous years moved to coaching the Varsity team. Mr. Billings took over the JV coaching position.

VARSITY TEAM: Tamara Danford, Celeste Reedy, Lori Shaeffer, Brenda Anderson, Tammy De Ruiter, Lynne Novak, Jamie Howard, Manager; Coach Oesterle, Kim Grunewald, Tracy Price, Robin Furubotten, Susan Van Liew, Keri Baehre.

Cheerleaders Attend A Christian

August brought cheer camp for the cheerleaders. It was off to Denver, Colorado, for a week of learning new cheers, chants and leadership abilities to use throughout the year. This was a time of growing closer to one another and working together as a line. With all the enthusiasm of hard practicing they earned and brought home a spirit stick (an award for being most spirited). This year's Varsity line consisted of all seniors, while the J.V. line had two juniors and three sophomores. They performed an annual pom routine on Homecoming to the "Theme from Swat." For the third year, Mrs. Peggy Schmid did an excellent job in planning routines, pep assemblies and giving helpful suggestions to enable the cheerleaders to promote school spirit. In January, Mrs. Schmid left for Switzerland where her husband had a new job opportunity. Replacing her as a sponsor was Mrs. Patty Belts, a former alumnus.

Wrestlers Improve As Years Pass

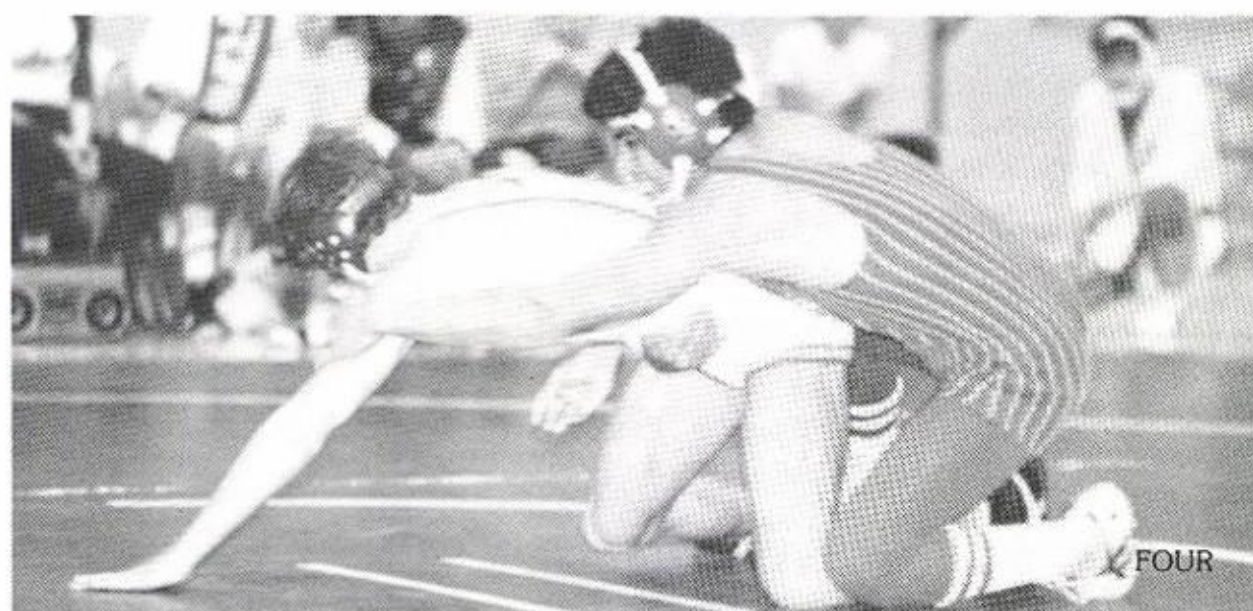

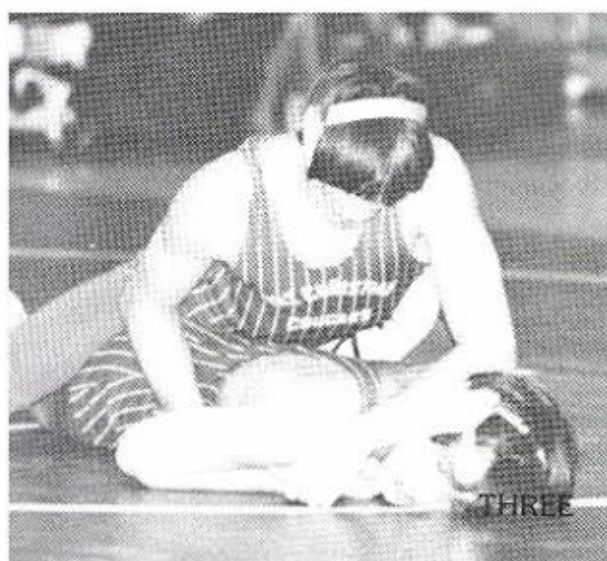

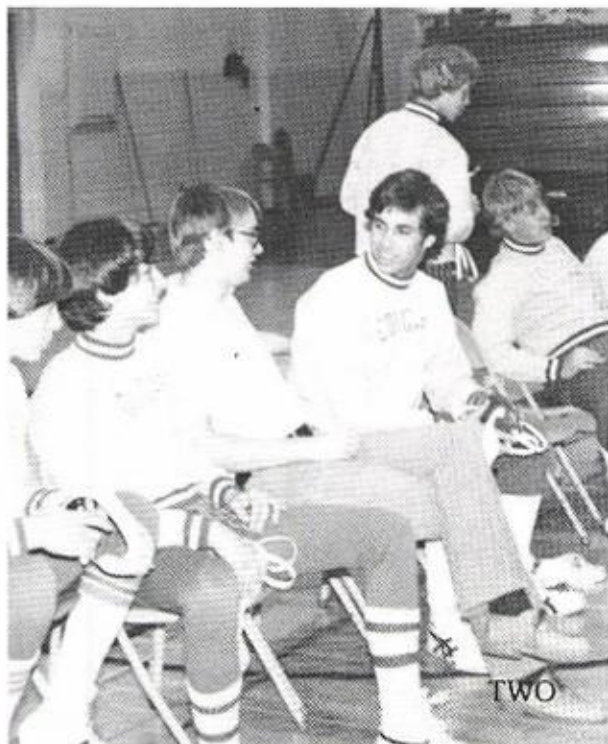

This year's wrestling team was the largest out of seven years. Only six wrestlers returned for another season while the rest were all unexperienced. As the season progressed, however, the new wrestlers obtained new skills and did well in matches. The returning wrestlers dusted off their old skills and gained new ones.

The wrestling team improved with the help of coaches Mr. Wickersham, Mr. Frank, and wrestling assistant Mr. Rudd. PCHS sent Brad Goodsell, Ken Kortman, and John Tencer to represent our school at the state tournament.

Wrestlerettes Lend Support To Team

The wrestlerettes started out 1981-1982 wrestling season encouraging wrestlers by making posters and preparing hearty snacks, accompanied with cheerful words to boost the spirits. Their preparation began this summer as they raised money to purchase outfits. It takes much devotion to conquer all the tasks of the wrestlerettes. It involves many hours of constant practice and preparation for the season's pep assemblies.

Computer Fever Hits PCHS

Computers popped up all over Phoenix Christian this year. Teachers and students alike were fascinated by these incredibly versatile devices. Students in the computer class learned programing in BASIC language - and played a lot of computer games! The computer room boasted five computers and two printers, which several teachers shared. Mr. Rudd, for example, had programs not only for grading, but for teaching the structure of atoms in chemistry. The computer in the English workroom was used for vocabulary, reading, and grading.

The accounting office used its computer for general accounting purposes, donations, records, and mailings to parents. Eventually the office hopes to use it for attendance and grades.

This Year's Active Student Council

TWO: Tracy Sloan and Tamara Danford show school spirit by clashing on clash day.

THREE: Sue Huber talks to Ed Hartless after she had just received a rose on green and white day, during spirit week.

The 1981-82 year was an active one for the student council. Within the first few months they had already planned a fun filled spirit week in which there were certain activities like: hat day, clash day, and green and white day. They planned a reunion after the homecoming game for the alumni classes of 1961 and 1971. This was very well attended.

The student council retreat in January was to plan even more activities and also to recuperate from the Mark Pevey benefit. Mark, a 1981 graduate, had been involved in a serious automobile accident, during the summer, and his parents were faced with many unpaid hospital bills. The student council hosted a benefit dinner in January to raise money to help pay for the many debts.

One Dollar A Week

In Spite of the dreary economic news the students and friends of Phoenix Christian High School made the 1982 OAW campaign successful. Several of the students worked diligently selling one here and one there. The student selling the most was Ruth Gatz, a Sophomore, who sold 120. The Junior class, for the first time in many years, won the class competition by 21%.

The total sold this year was 2,020 only 20 less than 1981, but of the amount pledged and by February 1 over 50% of the $105,000 had been given to the school.

For many years the One Dollar A Week Campaign has truly been the "Life-Line" of the school.

The students listed on this page sold at least 6 OAW's by January 11, 1982, and are to be congratulated for their work.

Chapel Gives Opportunity For Service

Chapel was a special time when both students and faculty were able to be involved in the program. Students had a special chapel put aside for them where they could share their testimonies or special praises. Students participated in performing special music, song leading and leading in prayer. A chapel committee composed of thirteen students and sponsored by Mr. Buckner, helped to plan the chapel schedule throughout the year. In one of the first chapels of the year, the new teachers were able to let the students get to know them through relating their personal experiences which led them to PCHS. Mr. Buckner and Dr. Crenshaw, who represent the administrative staff, trade off every other month to speak in chapel.

Special guests included former alumni, pastors from various churches and music groups from colleges and churches. At times music groups brought a college representative who shared information about the college.

Concert Choir Sings At Gammage

An Open House for parents in October started the year of performances for the Concert Choir. Mrs. Eschelmen, a student teacher, helped direct the choir for six weeks. She lent support to Mr. Bradley, by helping with Harvest Time Vespers. They gave a concert at the benefit dinner for Mark Pevey during the January PTF meeting, where over $2,200.00 was raised to help defray the medical expenses of the Pevey family. The choir performed with alumni, several church choirs, and an orchestra for a benefit concert, "Hymns Triumphant," for the chapel auditorium at Grady Gammage on February 21. In March they toured in-state for the first time in several years.

Mixed Chorus Works Hard

The Mixed Chorus was a hard working group of Freshman and Sophomore students who throughout the year were taught the basic fundamentals of singing. In the beginning of the year, Mrs. Darla Eschelman, a student teacher directed the chorus in many songs. They gained such valuable experiences as how to read music and the essential forms of singing, which will benefit them as they try out for Concert Choir.

The Handbell Choir held many concerts during the year, some with the Concert Choir. In October, they went to Pinewood, in northern Arizona, and stayed at Kim Kortman's cabin for a weekend of fun and a performance. In April they toured and performed at churches in Los Angeles, California. For a day of fun they went to Magic Mountain.

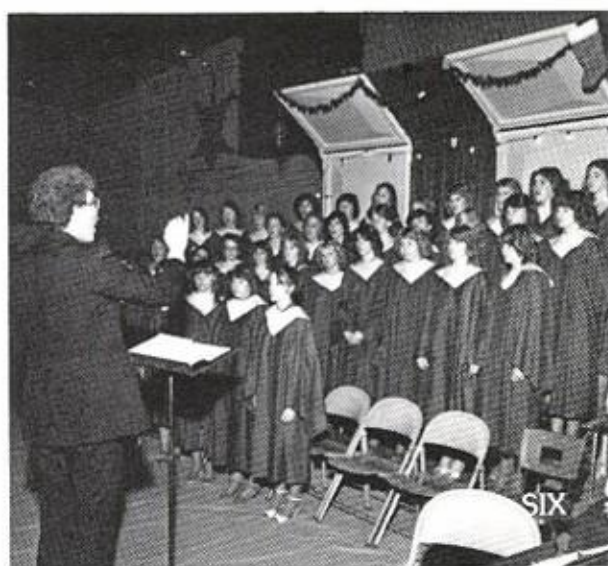

The Chorale was very busy during the year, especially at Christmas, by singing at the Golden Eagle and the Phoenix Country Club, as well as singing at various other places. Donations given helped to purchase new sound equipment. Plans were made for a two-week tour of the West Coast during the summer.

Christmas Vespers Tells Birth Of Christ

For the first time in several years, the whole music department worked together to present the Christmas Vespers "Christmas from Genesis to Revelation In Living Color" with readings by Mr. Buckner and Mr. Billings, intermingled with songs by the Concert Choir and Mixed Chorus and instrumentals by the Handbells and Band, while slides were shown.

- ONE: Mara Simon concentrates during vespers.
- TWO: Concert Choir sings to glorify the Lord.
- THREE: Paula Clinton sings "Come, Thou Long Expected Jesus."
- FOUR: The trumpet section contributes to the grand finale of "King All Glorious."

- SEVEN: Chorale sings Christmas carols in a snow scene.
- EIGHT: Brenda Cheatwood begins Vespers with "O Holy Night."
- NINE: Mr. Billings reads the Christmas story to his son Troy.

SCH Takes The Place Of FHA

During this past summer, the FHA organized a new homemakers club and chose a new name, Society of Christian Homemakers, which they hope will be used in many Christian schools around the world some day. Through this new organization, SCH hopes to lead many girls to a deeper understanding of their role as Christians in today's society. The club officers set goals for the following year, such as: "Prepare themselves to fulfill the woman's role in God's plan, by developing the skills and characteristics of a virtuous homemaker; to magnify the importance of strong family ties; and to promote better communication among family members." In addition, they hope to start a state and national homemakers association, like they had when they were with the FHA organization.

The SCH had many projects and fund raising events during this past year. For instance, in the beginning of the year, they held a car wash, which helped the girls raise money to build up their funds, and at the same time, have fun, while working, as seen in the picture at the left.

Soph. And Juniors Win Powder Puff

The GAA got off to a great start this past year, with their annual Powder Puff Football Game. The Sophomore and Junior team, under the guidance of Bud Simon, defeated the Freshman and Senior team, with a 17-14 victory. Rough play and minor injuries plagued the game, but most seemed to have a great time. The cheerleaders, guys in disguise, as usual, were one of the highlights of the game.

The GAA was under the guidance of Mrs. House for the first semester and Mrs. Adkins for the second, due to Mrs. Adkins maternity leave.

Clubs Continue To Grow

Soccer Club

Lettermen's Club

PCHS clubs continued to grow throughout the year. More students involved themselves in activities by joining these clubs. The Soccer Club and the Bicycling Club both had remarkable turnouts for their first year. The Lettermen's Club held a half-time basketball shootout once again while the Sailing Club continued to have trips to Lake Pleasant.

Pep Club Excels In School Spirit

This year's Pep Club started off with a good turnout of members. There was an increase of guys which brought about more school spirit for all students. The members participated in such duties as making posters and supporting the PCHS team at girls' and guys' athletic events.

Members of the Pep Club had much fun and also privileges non-members didn't have. Some of these included parties and special reservations on the bleachers at games.

it's all in your point of view

People, people, people! That's what our school is, you know. Without people, PCHS would be nothing more than silent buildings and dusty textbooks. People give it life.

Look around you. Notice the people- yes, you look at them every day, but have you ever really seen them? There is an infinite variety of personalities, even right here at school. Those quiet types, that hardly ever say anything, have you ever wondered what's really going on inside their heads? Then there are those kinds that always say exactly what they're thinking, when they're thinking it. Some people work hard at school, bury themselves in books, while other more socially minded types go to games and activities. Or take the teachers and staff members- most students only see them in their professional role. But have you ever taken the time to get to know them as friends and fellow Christians?

It is a characteristic of human nature that we tend to view anyone who is not like us as inferior in some way. But with God it is not so. God loves us all equally, and that He loves us at all is more than a little amazing! In view of this fact, as we look around, let's remember how much God loves us, and show His love in us to others.

Administration

The administration's viewpoint at Christian High is focused on the NOW. The action is taking place today. The learning process is being implemented. The philosophy of Christian Education involves the educating of the body, soul, and mind. The Biblical concept of training up a child in the ways of God according to His precepts will bear fruit, but today is the day of learning.

LEFT: Dr. Loye Crenshaw (Ps. 119:89), Superintendent since 1966, has the overall responsibility to see that the directives of the Board are implemented in the educational, fiscal, and spiritual areas of the school. BELOW: Rev. Harold Buckner (II Tim. 1:12b) came to PCHS in Feb. 1964 and as Administrative Assistant takes the responsibility for the Chapel services, capitalization, investment properties, and development of facilities.

LOWER LEFT: Mr. Walter Beamis (I Cor. 10:13) serves as Vice Principal of Student Affairs and as Athletic Director. This involves his participation in student discipline, student activities, and athletic relationships.

Glenn Smith 1916-1981

Glenn Smith passed to be with the Lord on September 4, 1981. He served on the Phoenix Christian High School Board of Directors for 30 years and during the past year served as Secretary. During this time he served as Chairman several times. As a member of the Executive Committee and Board as a whole he helped formulate many of the policies in the earlier years that are in effect today. He was always concerned that the philosophy and moral standards of the school not be deluted. He made many friends among the students and graduates and as one alumnus said, "He really cared for and loved you." Mr. Smith had many friends in all walks of life and his memorial service was attended by hundreds of people who will miss him. His service for God through Christian High cannot be measured and his influence will live on in the lives of all who knew him.

Board Of Directors

The viewpoint of the Board of Directors looks at the past, present and the future. The beginnings of the school 33 years ago still pose as a miracle and the fact that God has blessed and provided until now is an encouragement for today. As these men meet each month they make decisions affecting the future of the school. Many of them have served for many years because they believe in the philosophy of Christian education and the Biblical principles that are being taught on the campus. Phoenix Christian

High School is incorporated according to the laws of the State of Arizona. Serving on the Executive Committee this year were: Tom Skipworth-President, Paul Weed-V. President, Fred Furubotten-Secretary, and John De Vries-Treasurer.

Staff Views A Good Year

This year the yearbook staff asked the PCHS Staff to give their favorite Bible passage and to comment on their work this year. One example of this was Mrs. Mesarosh who hoped to gain more confidence on a complicated computer of PCHS. Another example is Mr. Gumm who desired to show the young men who assisted him the many areas of the accounting field at the school.

Teachers View The Year

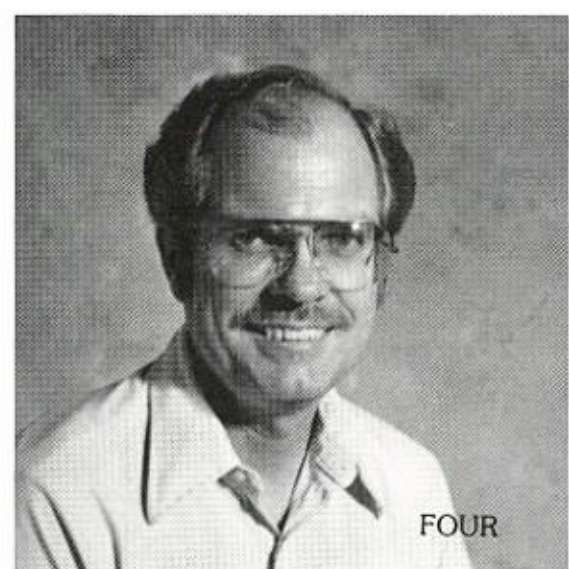

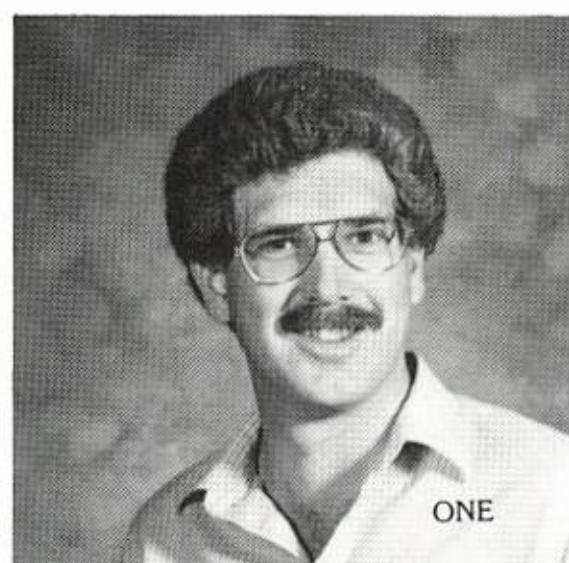

Like the PCHS staff, the year-book staff asked the teachers to give a Bible passage and a view of what they were doing this year. In the English department the computer has been beneficial to the teachers for grading, but as a tool Mr. Billings used it in his reading classes. In Mr. Nelson's English classes he tried to make the writing assignments useful for everyday life. In his speech class he created a means for each student to be different in their presentations. In the area of Math, Mrs. LaRue joined

Social Sciences

Other views and comments that the teachers gave included Mrs. Thornton who tried to better the four-year program of home economics which would center around building pride and enthusiasm about the woman's role in the home. Mr. Galindo's wish for this year was to implement God's love into the way he helped students learn. Mrs. Miner viewed the year as a new challenge and experience with a new editor, ad staff manager, and staff members. In the area of American Government Mr. Thorp emphasized the importance of applying Biblical principles to everything one does. Although these are only a few of the comments the teachers gave these show their real concern for the students themselves.

Other views of the school included Miss Oesterle who hoped that such works as the mural in the cafeteria would develop an art awareness for PCHS students. PCHS Welcomes New Students

ONE

New students arrived at PCHS during the beginning of the second semester. They came from both public and private schools with positive comments about our school. A former public school student commented, "I like the smaller size of the student body; you don't feel like you're just another face in the crowd." A former private school student stated, "I like the availability of classes I didn't have before."

Seniors Reflect On Past, Enjoy A Busy Year And Anticipate Future

What exactly is so special about your senior year? It's something you have been waiting for for a long time - at last you're the top of the line! Everyone seems to be looking up to you.

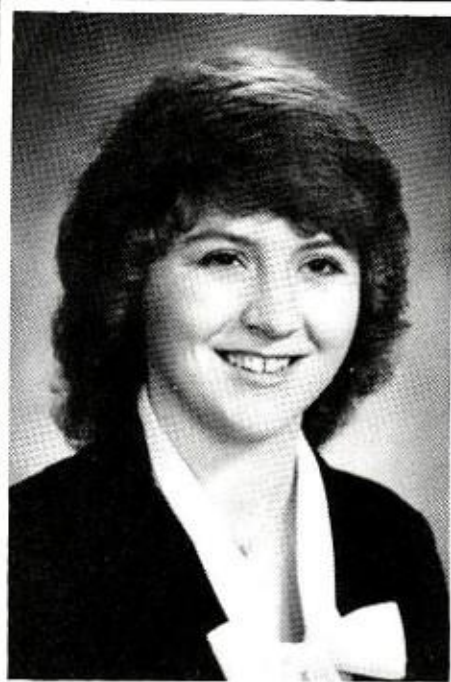

LOOKING BACK at the friends you made your freshman year you now realize how much they have helped you grow into the individual that you are. All of the chapel services and spiritual emphasis weeks suddenly become of an importance to your life. Remember back to your previous three years and how all the teachers cared for you?

LOOKING AROUND, do you remember the crazy times that you had at lunch? What about the challenge of Mr. Thorp's study guides? Or the daily learning in Mr. Hovda's Bible class? These are once in a lifetime experiences that you will treasure for a lifetime.

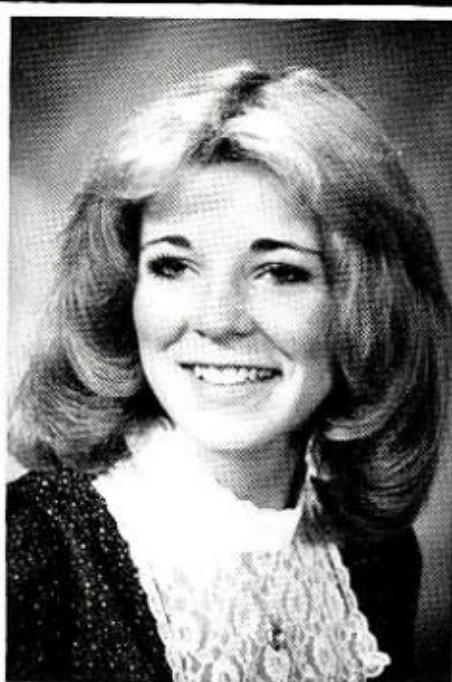

LOOKING FORWARD you begin to realize the responsibilities of being on your own. If you should decide to go to college you must face the problem of adjusting to roommates, dorm life and professors. Or if you should decide to go into the business world, you must face pressures such as eight hour workdays and meeting everyday deadlines set by your boss. Whatever you should decide to do, these past four years of high school have helped determine the measure of your success. That knowledge and the many memories are what will be so special about high school to you in ten years.

FIVE: Juniors show unity at 1st lunch.

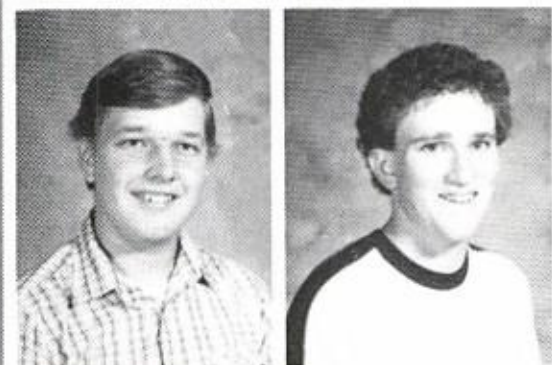

The rowdy class of '83 won the float competition for the third year in a row. There was some tough competition with the Freshmen but the Juniors still came out on top.

The Juniors this year were represented by Stephanie Stiles and Gary Hendrix as Homecoming attendants. The Juniors have had to struggle through the PSAT/NMSQT every year and this year was no exception. Mr. Kelly spent almost two weeks with them trying to help them get prepared for it.

TWO: The sophomore homecoming float.

THREE: Donita Smoker takes her part as twirler during this season's football game.

FOUR: "Who said eating lunch in the cafeteria is boring?"

FIVE: Debby Winikka and Duane Shultze concentrate in biology class.

Sophomores began the year with the all-new experience of taking the career test. This was to prepare them for the future P.S.A.T. test, which they will be taking as Juniors.

Most of the class participated in the Homecoming. Some of the students helped set up the float, and others cheered the float on. They also had a class party at H.G. Miller's house to eat and play games. From the beginning of the year they were all anticipating a good year.

With the beginning of the school year, new freshmen overran the PCHS campus. Some of the frustrations expressed by the freshmen were "Feeling stupid," "Confused," "Lost," "Self conscious".

The freshmen year can mean many things such as new friendships, adjusting to high school, and new experiences. Though the freshmen year was confusing, the class of '85 had a bright outlook.

ONE: Freshmen class officers: Jeff Brouwer, Vikki Fait, Karla Molenaar, Jeff Goshow, Debi Noble, and Denise Kullos.

TWO: Freshmen get acquainted with the seniors at the freshmen-senior party.

THREE: Rodney Backer receives instruction from Miss Oesterle.

FOUR: Freshmen guys join together for the picnic tug-of-war.

Getting A

P People: That's what this book is about! So, coming up very shortly are some of the special interests, current crazes, and everyday occurrences of the people here at PCHS.

E Eating: The #1 entertainment possibility of the average teenager. This pastime can be pursued in or out of class, while driving or watching TV, at the movies, or all by itself with full concentration.

R Racquetball: An increasingly popular form of exercise. Most students find that racquetball provides a good workout and lot of fun for both the clumsy amateur and the streak-of-lightning "pro".

S Summer: It lasts a long time in Phoenix - or at least the 110 weather does! The vacation usually doesn't seem long enough! Summertime is the time to get a job, take a family vacation, go to

Some health nuts opt for salads and celery, but most of us stay with tried-and-true junk food.

P Preppie: You know the type - IZOD shirts, pleated pants, top-siders. "Oh, Muffy, do come with us to Nantucket this summer..." Or, if you prefer, we can consider the direct opposite

- Punk, characterized by distinctive haircuts, headbands, and "Vans" shoes.

E Exams: Some things never change! The pressure, the worry, the suspense. The constant onslaught of computer-scored answer sheets, essay "writer's cramp" questions, and multiple "guess" could cause panic, but most students, armed with a No.

2 pencil and a sense of humor, manage just fine.

C Cinema: or, in the vernacular, the movies. "Raiders of the Lost Ark" was definitely the movie of the year, but "SupermanII" and

"Arthur" were also popular. Other more serious flicks were "Reds", and "Taps", and for Walt Disney connoisseurs, local theaters showed "Cinderella" and "The Fox and the Hound".

T Total Release: Anyone who has been involved in PCHS sports has become familiar with this concept. It involves putting every part of yourself into any activity in which you participate.

This not only applies to sports, but also to music, academics, and overall Christian life.

I Influenza: No school year is complete without it. Around about January or February, half the school sniffs and coughs through the halls, toting along boxes of Kleenex, while the other half stays home and watches soap operas. (Well, maybe not everyone...)

V Video Games: Pac-Man, Space Invaders, and Centipede are truly a fad in full swing. Video games bring out the aggression and competitive spirit in even the most subdued of people.

One drawback, though: You can sure use up a lot of quarters!

E Endurance: One thing's for sure, you need a lot of it to get through four years of high school. But when all's said and done, wasn't it worth it?

Quality

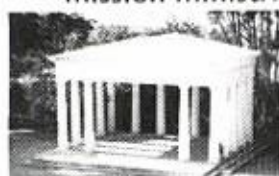

At Point Loma College, quality is more than just a word, it's our way of doing things.

PLC, now in its 78th year, is a fully accredited, four-year, liberal arts college dedicated to the idea of quality Christian education.

Ninety full-time professors, 37 majors in 17 departments assures you of a quality education to meet your specific area of interest.

Dedication to a Christian education shows itself in the many opportunities available for worship, spiritual growth, and training in Christian service: chapel three times a week, Bible study, prayer groups, inner city and home mission ministries, service in local churches.

Located on 90 beautiful acres overlooking the Pacific Ocean, PLC is the perfect place to find quality Christian education!

from us - to you!

Life As A Y e a r b o o k

What? A yearbook editor with no yearbook experience? Preposterous! you may be thinking. Well, I must admit, it rather took me by surprise, too. When I was first asked to take the job, I responded enthusiastically. But little did I guess what was to follow!

My first encounter with yearbook terminology and procedures occurred at a week-long publications workshop at NAU during the summer. At first, thoroughly disoriented, I floundered through lectures and critiques with only the vaguest idea of what anyone was talking about. I needn't have worried. Yearbook "buzz words" are easy to pick up, and sound quite impressive when casually tossed around. Soon I fit right in, and returned home full of revolutionary ideas, innovative concepts, and generally high hopes.

Putting all these great ideas to work, however, required a bit more stamina than I had expected. I was soon confronted with all the hassles of club pictures, india ink, and stubborn croppers that just wouldn't work. And what yearbook staffer can imagine life without deadlines? Deadlines meant jammed typewriters, layouts ripped up in frustration, and frantic lunch hours spent finishing pages due the next day.

Of course, there were the good times, too- the thrill of receiving proof pages, the pizza parties, and days when everything was hysterically funny. We got to know each other's peculiar little quirks, what we were crazy about, what we hated.

All in all, yearbook this year was a learning, growing experience, and I wouldn't trade it for the world!
